UNCONDITIONAL RECOGNITION OF FRANCO

Paris, To-day.

A definite move to recognise General Franco's Government will be taken on Monday, the Premier, M. Edouard Daladier, told the Chamber of Deputies yesterday afternoon.

On that date the Council of Ministers would be invited to decide in favour of recognition.

Replying to criticisms of his statement, M. Daladier said: "The security of our third frontier has been mentioned.

SIXTY HUTS GUTTED IN DAWN BLAZE

Some five hundred semi-destitutes were rendered homeless at an early hour this morning when their huts were destroyed by fire.

Of about two hundred huts erected on a vacant ground on the hillside behind Lai Chi Kok Road, near Boundary Street, some sixty were burnt down.

The Kowloon Fire Brigade received the first alarm at 4.10 a.m. and two engines under Mr. Woolard were sent. After nearly an hour, the fire was brought under full control.

Although no official statement concerning the cause of the fire is available, it is believed it was due to spark from a chatty.

JAPANESE PLANE FLIES ALONG BORDER

A JAPANESE AEROPLANE FLEW PRACTICALLY THE FULL LENGTH OF THE HONG KONG BORDER ON THE CHINESE SIDE, YESTERDAY.

The machine appeared first in the vicinity of Shatukok, and then flew past Au Tau, Lo Fong and Shum-chun.

No bombs were dropped, but

"On all 600 kilometres of this frontier, France is in contact with the Government of General Franco.

"That is why I consider that the French Government should have neighbourly relations with the real Government of Spain, which is now that of General Franco."

After hearing M. Daladier's statement the Chamber passed a motion of confidence in the Premier by 323 votes to 261.

SECURITY OF FRANCE

The whole Chamber applauded the Premier's closing statement that "I am determined that France shall not be isolated in regard to Spanish affairs any more than any other part of the world.

"This is not a question of party politics but of the security of France."

BRITISH ACTION

Meanwhile, in London Reuter learns authoritatively that if the French Council of Ministers approves M. Daladier's proposal, it may be assumed that similar action will be taken by the British Government on the same day.

It is expected that Mr. Neville Chamberlain will announce it in the House of Commons simultaneously with M. Daladier.

The French decision is considered in London as ending the period of negotiations with General Franco to whom the promise of recognition is becoming a diminishing asset.

pamphlets were liberally scattered, inviting the Chinese to surrender to Japanese jurisdiction.

All was quiet along the border this morning and the refugee influx had dwindled to very small proportions.

FOREIGN OFFICE AND H.K. BOMBING

London, To-day.

The Government is studying a report by Sir Robert Craigie (Ambassador in Tokyo) on his conversations with Mr. Arita (Japanese Foreign Minister) concerning the Hong-Kong bombing incident, together with the apology and interim assurances relating to compensation and disciplinary measures.

It is now a question of deciding whether these are sufficient to warrant the closing of what is regarded as an extremely serious incident. — Reuter.

FOREIGN SHIPS HELD: FOUR OFFICERS SAID DETAINED

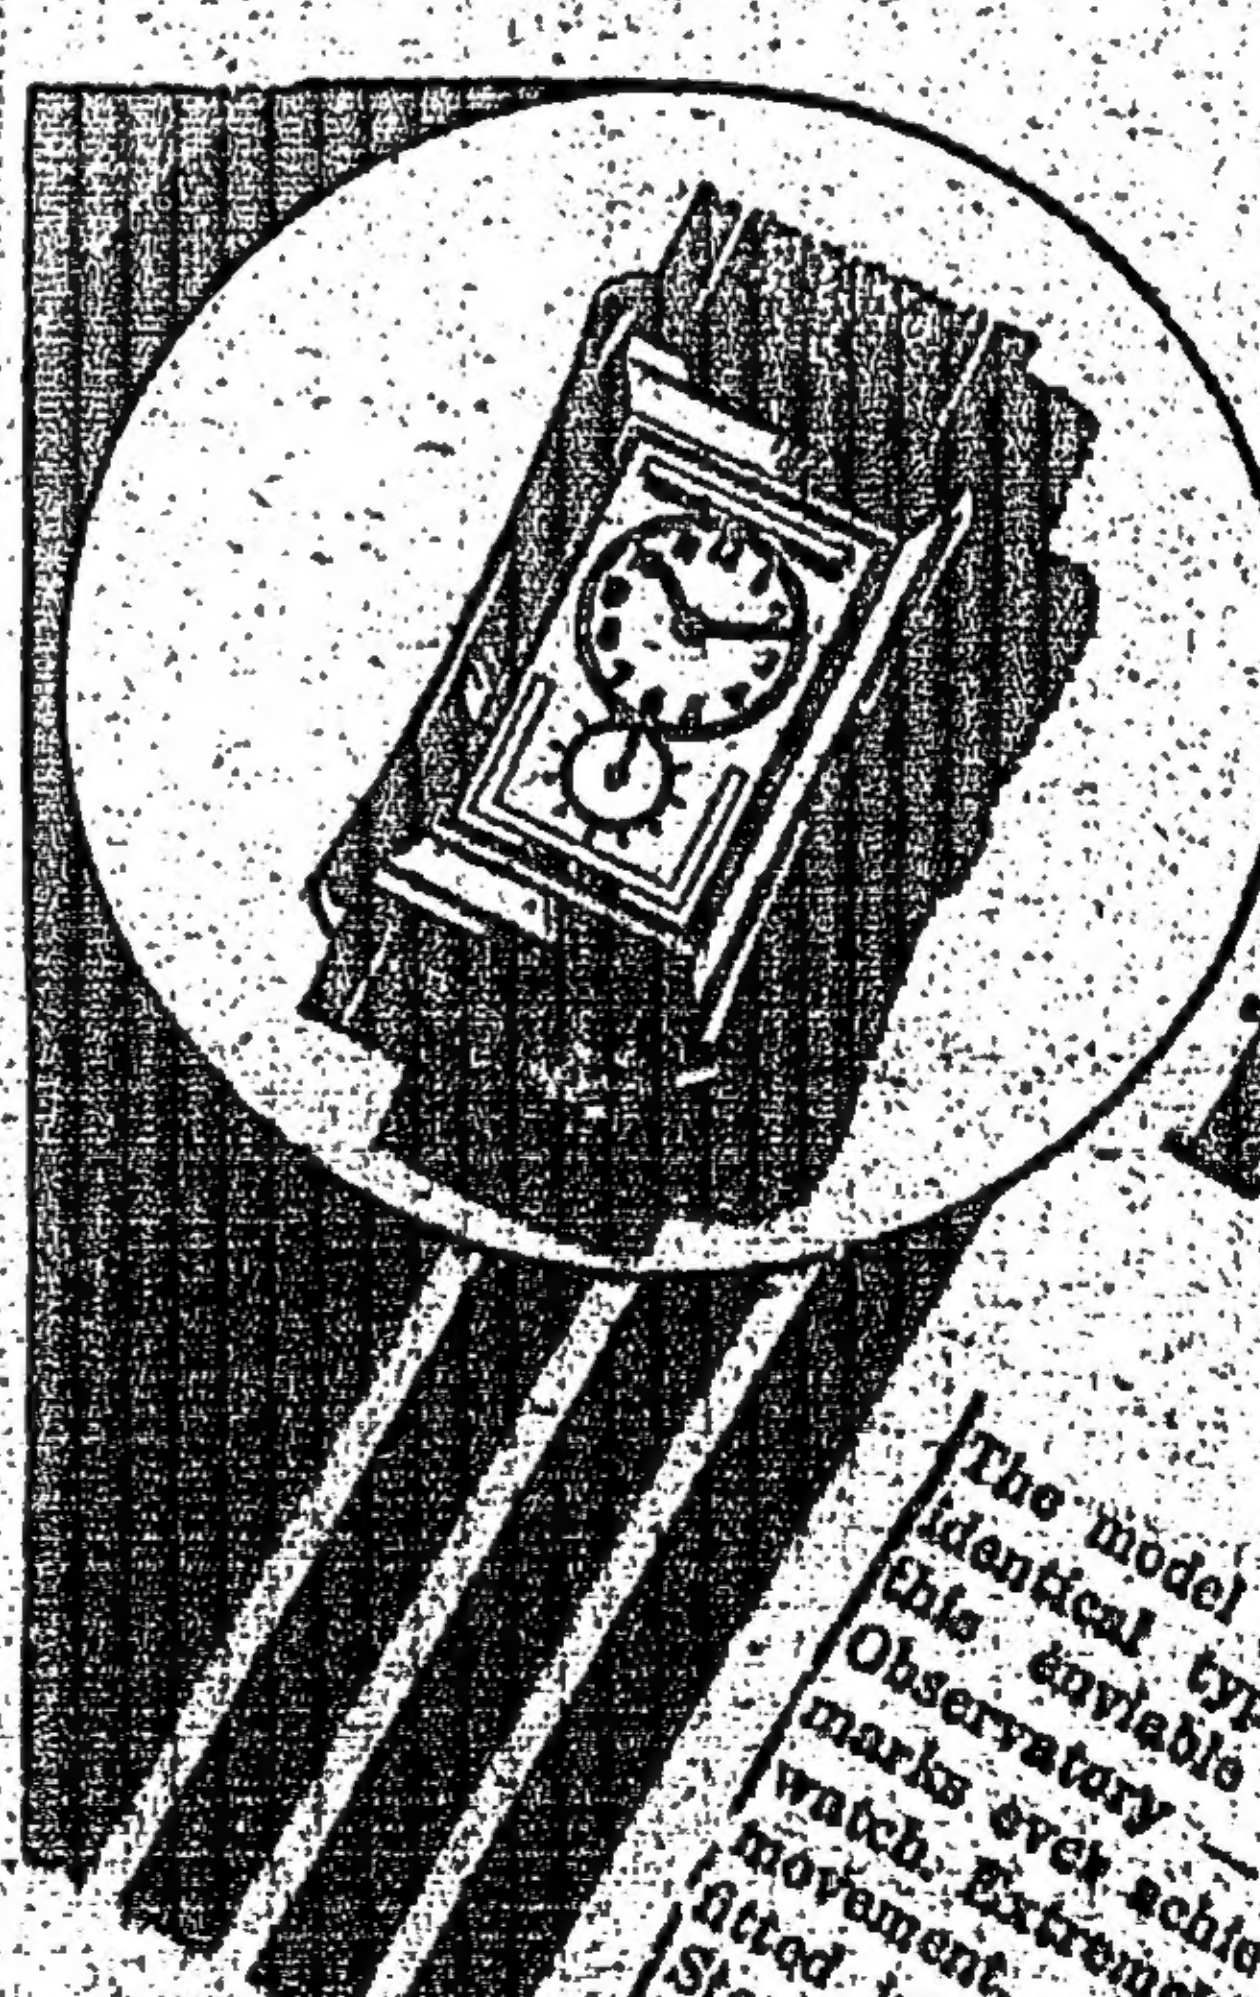

SHANGHAI, TO-DAY.

AUTHENTIC REPORTS STATE THAT TWO MERCHANT VESSELS WERE STOPPED AND SEARCHED BY THE JAPANESE OUTSIDE SHANGHAI AT WOOSUNG YESTERDAY.

The vessels, it is learned, were flying foreign flags and came from Wenchow.

Four members of the crew, including foreigners, have been detained.

Japanese officials here confirm the fact that foreign vessels had been stopped for "certain reasons" but refuse to divulge further information. — Our Own Correspondent.

Such a lot of you are

PROBLEM GIRLS

Susan rang me up last week. She's my friend who says just what she means. "I'm just about tired of trying to buy clothes to suit me, and you're doing nothing to help me. I want to hear less about perfection, and a lot more about how you'd deal with my six feet of badly arranged flesh and bones. It's a safe bet my problem bothers hundreds of women . . . and they are all feeling just as cross as I am."

Then she rang off.

"Stella Barton" is short and stumpy. Her favourite classic suits make her look like a walking pillow. Of course they do, and they should never get into her wardrobe at all.

If she MUST wear suits they should be soft and rather casual. Neat little cardigan jackets with curved fronts. Skirts gored to the waistline and not too narrow at the hemline.

She would look much nicer in tailored frocks with seams piped from the shoulders to make a panel back and front. Strictly tailored lingerie and the best foundation garment she can afford are "musts."

Because she is "rather square," ordinary small women's sizes are no good to her, so she makes her own.

We would like to see her in the frock Silvalne has sketched below. Soft but not full drapery on the bodice, waistline suggested but not marked, very narrow sash tying at the back. It's the kind of frock French women — so often short and square — have made famous for chic.

She could wear high squared little hats with this and perfectly plain court shoes with medium heels. And her top coat should be sleek rather than swagger. One of those straight, collarless coats would be her best buy for the spring.

"Maisie Pope" says: "Bones are my trouble, and I look like a hop pole."

She sent us a snapshot to show she was no exaggerating. She looks grand in suits because of her razor-slim hips, but a girl can't wear suiting all day long.

She yearns for frocks, but they always look as though she had borrowed them from a much shorter-armed sister.

And she only wears mannish Homburgs, because the girl in the shop never believes she could possibly want anything else.

We want her to try a smock frock. They are the rage in New York.

They start with a flat yoke and all the rest of the dress is gathered into it. Before you do things with belts and girdles, the smock frock hangs straight and full. The sleeves are pure bishop, gathered into wide wrist bands. A smock frock makes a thin figure look important, and the fullness can be arranged in several ways. Good in dark rich colours, but best of all in black. With a 6in. laced-up belt in bright fuchsia coloured felt, this is the dress with "Maisie Pope's" name on it.

Third problem was more difficult because it is more usual. "Mrs. Stone" is exactly stock size. Buys good quality clothes and always matches her colour schemes. Likes "ensembles" for best and jerseys with skirt to match for the office. Is pin neat, but always looks dead ordinary.

There are hundreds of women like that. In spite of carefully planned clothes they always miss the sparkle.

"Mrs. Stone's wardrobe needs a few shocks. Its outlook on life is far too beige. She should wear vivid little cloth jackets with dark skirts, and slick tailored frocks in colours like carnation red or olive green.

She'll get her best results with the black she doesn't wear now because it frightens her. A severe black frock dramatised with hunks of gilt jewellery or mock-demure with starched collar and cuffs.

She might look at the new exciting hats . . . rather plain and no longer muffled in veils, buy a smart bag and gloves to match it.

When doing any embroidery keep silks between the pages of a closed book with the ends of the hanks showing.

This prevents the silks from tangling, and it is much easier to pick out the colours.

Beauty and You

by PATRICIA LINDSAY

"More Beautiful You" This Year

Looking back over the old year there is much to be thankful for even though it had its trials and tribulations.

But what most of us do not seem to realise is this — that dreams do not come true through magic. Even the more glamorous successes which you know of had but little of the element of chance. All had an impressive record of perseverance and optimism!

In this world so beset currently with conflict of one kind and another, every individual finds it most difficult to log his course of living. Discouragement comes easily, hope is difficult to hold on to. But why live at all if you lose hope? What joy is there in each day if you are not working toward one goal or another?

SAFE SCHOOL OF THOUGHT

Women and girls everywhere must realise that upon them depends the sanity of the nations — the inspiration of the era. Those demands upon us have not changed throughout the ages even though the ages themselves have recorded startling byways from the paradise we all seek. And how much more influence have we of the female sex if we retain and enhance the allure given us as a highright!

Have you ever read of a successful courtesan or woman spy who was ugly. No indeed, it was because of those women's beauty they were chosen or coerced into the services of their kings and countries. Man knows that beauty rules! And your beauty can rule in your little private domain just as the beauty of the illustrious courtesan ruled in the courts of history!

Successful beauty, just as any other success, requires perseverance. You cannot hope to be slim of body, graceful in manner, soft of voice, and beautiful of face, without devoting time and energy to making you so. But the rewards are so great that I urge you to resolve to make yourself a more beautiful woman in the year which is knocking at your door.

Banish discouragement, take on fresh hope. Take an inventory of your ugliness — not your beauty — and then plan to banish that ugliness. What joy and success is in store for you, and how much more quickly those dreams of yours will materialise if you will make the most of your beauty.

What The Stars Foretell

(By MARY BLAKE)

Be careful that impatience does not involve you in trouble this day. There may be an urge to do things hurriedly, with the result that, if this inclination is given into they are apt to be badly done. The opportunity to do some good this day, must not be ignored for many future benefits may be derived therefrom. Social aspirations are apt to be realized this day and a great deal of hospitality accorded by people from whom it is least expected. Intrigue perhaps will rear its ugly head and ought to be avoided as you would a pertilence, for only evil can come from it. Jealousy and greed are liable to influence actions, that might bring about many drastic changes in business and personal affairs. Married and engaged couples, as well as those who are striving to win some person's heart, should be very considerate of each other's feelings this day, because an unusual degree of sensitiveness apparently will exist.

If a woman and February 25 is your birthday, you ought to have great self-control and an unlimited amount of diplomacy. With proper business training it is possible for you to develop much executive ability. A pleasure-loving nature should make you fond of social activities. Your personal magnetism may win the deep affection and lasting loyalty of many friends. You seem to have excellent prospects for many luxuries and a large income. Through a business venture of your own, or as an artist, literary woman, lecturer, entertainer or publicity agent you may become affluent. Your chance of marrying a thoroughly congenial man, capable of making you happy, seems to be very good.

"Now it's billions of dollars," says soliloquizing Elizabeth, "and back in the old days all that it cost the Indians to declare war was a change of paint."

The child born on February 25, will be kind and sympathetic. This youngster's love for a pet ought to entitle it to have one. It ought to become very successful.

Worn and slippery steps on the stairs should have strips of emery cloth tacked to them so that the foot grips them easily and accidents are less likely to occur.

If your dance dress gets torn or dirty at the bottom, get some velvet and cut it about 9 to 12 in. in depth, and sew it around the bottom of the dress. This will make it attractive and new-looking.

Don't throw away the outside parts of a stick of celery. Wash, cut in little cubes and dry in a cool oven. Stored in a glass jar they are excellent for flavouring soups, stews, etc., when fresh celery is out of season.

A desire to be more beautiful encourages happiness!

JAPANESE PLANS FOR HAINAN ISLAND

Kweilin, To-day.

There is growing evidence of Japanese intentions to build up
Hainan Island as a naval and air base.

Besides laying out a big airfield, an unceasing shipment of military supplies has been sent to the Island. This includes guns, tanks, bombs and shells of various descriptions, as well as 300 cases of airplane parts and other arms.

A big armada of war vessels is concentrated there. Among them are three aircraft-carriers, three cruisers, 18 destroyers and 22 gunboats.

Fighting continues in many parts of the Island. In spite of the Japanese occupation of Kiungchow and Hoihow, Chinese troops cling to their positions in the hilly regions in the outskirts and are still harassing the invaders.

Six Japanese planes raided the highway between Szewui and Tsingyuan in Kwangtung yesterday afternoon. Bombs were dropped at Sungkong and Shanglam, where about ten civilians were killed and wounded.

A Japanese artillery unit mounted guns at Mahow, south of Samshui, on the West River, and shelled Kamlee, opposite the River. — Central News.

CHINA-BURMA AIR SERVICE SURVEY

Kunming, To-day.

Paving the way for the formal inauguration of the air service between China and Burma on February 28, a survey flight between Chungking and Rangoon has been made by a C.N.A.C. plane with satisfactory results, it is announced here to-day.

Starting from Chungking at 6.40 o'clock on the morning of
Feb. 22, the surveying machine, carrying one bag of mail matter, arrived here at 9.30 o'clock the same morning. After one hour's stay, it resumed its journey to Burma.

After a brief stopover at Lashio where its engines were examined, the plane arrived at Rangoon at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

The plane is expected to return here on its way back to Chungking to-day. — Central News.

NINE LIVES LOST IN CORNISH SEA DISASTERS

Nine lives were lost in the storm off the coast of Cornwall in which the St. Ives lifeboat was wrecked with the loss of all the crew except one.

In addition to the seven lifeboatmen drowned, one member of the crew of the former naval vessel Medea, on her way to be broken up, was washed overboard when her tow rope broke. The Medea is thought to have been the ship to whose aid the lifeboat was sent.

Later the body of an unknown man was washed ashore near St. Ives. Near the body were two lifeboats, bearing the name "Fosco," and a quantity of wreckage. It was apparent that neither the body nor the wreckage had been in the sea for more than 24 hours.

Inquiries are being made through Lloyd's signal station at the Lizard to ascertain if any ship named Fosco was in the vicinity.

The lifeboat was wrecked near the Godrevy lighthouse, in St. Ives Bay. The only survivor, William Freeman, a volunteer, made his way over the rocks to safety.

THREE BODIES FOUND

The seven members of the crew who were drowned were:

Coxswain Thomas Cocking, 63; 2nd Coxswain M. Barber, 35; 1st Engineer R. Q. Stevens, 29; 2nd Engineer John S. Cocking, 29, son of the coxswain; Signaller J. Thomas, 42; W. Barber, 35; and another volunteer named Bassett.

The Barbers were brothers, and Stevens was a son-in-law of Thomas Cocking.

When the hurricane had abated, search parties were looking for the bodies of the drowned men among the rocks. So far those of Coxswain Cocking, his son and Matthew Barber have been recovered. All the men who died were married, and with one exception fathers of families.

It was about 2 a. m. that the lifeboat was launched in response to a telephone message from a coastguard at Cape Cornwall, 12 miles away. He stated that a vessel was in distress off the Cape.

The lifeboat went out into the bay in the teeth of a hurricane, with a strong flood tide against her. Nothing further was seen by those on shore until about 4 a. m., when flares were observed about two miles off St. Ives Head. Red lights were also seen.

Frances Farmer as she appears in "Ride A Crooked Mile," next change at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres.

Coastguards tried in vain to answer the signals by morse and searchlights. No more was seen of the lifeboat till she was wrecked at Godrevy.

TOW ROPE BREAKS

Meanwhile, the Medea, with one of her crew washed overboard after her tow rope had broken, drifted helplessly on the rocks near Trebetherick with three men on board.

The vessel, originally the monitor M 22 and latterly a mining tender to the Vernon Torpedo School, was being taken to Newport to be broken up when she encountered the full force of the gale. The man lost was Alfred Jackson, 29, of Westminster-avenue, Hull.

The other three men on board the ship were eventually rescued by rocket apparatus. They were Harold Gibson, 25, of Mayfield-street, Hull; Joseph Ibbotson, 22, of Campbell-street, Hull, and Harold Thompson, 26, of Estcott-street, Hull.

Mr. G. W. P. Irwin, of the Fore Dore Garage, Trebetherick, in one whose vehicles the rocket apparatus was taken to the cliff top, assisted in the rescue efforts. He said:

"Six rockets were fired before the rescue was accomplished. Some of the other lines fell across the ship, but it would have been fatal for the men to have tried to reach them. They would certainly have been washed overboard. Other lines were cut on the rock.

FISHERMEN'S SERVICE

"It was two hours from the time that the life-saving party was summoned that the men were rescued. They had practically given up hope and had been considering whether they would have to jump for it. The sea was so rough that they would have had little hope of being saved had they done so."

For some time there was anxiety as to the whereabouts of the tug Scotaman, of Hull, with ten on board, which was towing the Medea. Later, however, her owners at Hull received a message saying that she was safe.

The Royal National Lifeboat Institution states that the dependents of the men who lost their lives will be pensioned in the same way as if they had been killed in action in the Navy, Army or Air Force.

One hundred fishermen, including relatives of the dead men, attended a service in the Seamen's Institute overlooking the old harbour.

ANTI-COMINTERN PACT SIGNED BY HUNGARY

Budapest, To-day.

The Anti-Comintern Pact was signed on behalf of Hungary yesterday by the Foreign Minister, Count Casky.

In a speech after the ceremony, Count Casky declared that Hungary's accession to the Pact was the result not only of her 20 years' fight against Bolshevism but also of her sincere friendship for Germany, Italy and Japan.

Since 1919, Hungary had been involved in a struggle against the clandestine influences of the Comintern in international affairs.

The Pact was directed against no State but could simply be regarded as self-defence against improper interference in the internal affairs of signatory States.

GERMANY'S WELCOME

Comintern methods of operating were various and powerful because they were international in character, and therefore successful defence against them could be built up only by co-operation between States.

The German Ambassador, in reply, welcomed Hungary's accession to the Pact, as showing the friendly relations and common interests between Hungary and the three other States.

The Ambassador expressed satisfaction that Hungary was faithful to her historic role as bulwark of order and peace, and had agreed to join the struggle against the destructive work of the Communist International.—Reuter.

CALCUTTA, TO-DAY:

LORD BRABOURNE, GOVERNOR OF BENGAL, WAS LAID TO REST YESTERDAY AFTER A SERVICE IN ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL CONDUCTED BY THE METROPOLITAN OF INDIA AND THE BISHOP OF CALCUTTA.

The service was attended by the acting Governor of Bengal, representing the King, the Governor of Bombay, a representative of the Viceroy and a large gathering of military and civil officials.

As the procession left the Cathedral for St. John's Church, with the body on a gun-carriage, a salute of 17 minute guns was fired from Fort William.

The route was thickly lined with silent crowds standing ten deep.

Mr. Oswald Pirow, the South African Minister of Defence, had to face sharp criticism of his policy during the further debate on national defence in Parliament.

DERBY UPSET

Bright, sunny weather, without threat of the badly needed rain that was expected, favoured the opening of the Jockey Club's Annual Race Meeting at the Valley, and soon after 10.30 a.m. the public entrances were surrounded by excited Chinese crowds.

Jockey Club officials were given a harassing time at their city office, an eager crowd comprising all nationalities literally battling during the one hour allowed them for through tickets and books of tickets on the mammoth Derby sweep, the first prize in which now exceeds $200,000. Arriving at the course soon after, the same officials were kept busy without a break satisfying the crowds clamouring for Derby sweep tickets, the total number sold at 10.30 a.m. being 540,000!

A word of tribute must be paid those responsible for the splendid condition of the track, which, despite the sad lack of rain, is in excellent shape and which is expected to produce some fast times. The Club lawns are almost perfect and the flower beds have never been more colourful. Truly the Jockey Club, from the roof of which flutter the colours of the respective owners, presents a picture worthy of the occasion.

DERBY COMMENT

Gossip naturally centres on the Derby, for which Mr. Eu Tong-sen's Rose Elect is a hot favourite. One prominent owner said: "The race is as good as over! Navylight, without the experienced hand of the unfortunate 'Budge' Moller, is taking a back seat. It will be lucky to place," was one opinion, and Mr. Eve's Eve of Harvest (Mr. Marshall) has become second favourite, with Mrs. Pearce's Hyndford Bridge (Mr. Needa) third favourite. It is rumoured that Chris Moller will take out Navylight.

Satisfaction Felt That Parley Is Still In Being

London, To-day.

A further meeting of Arab, Jewish and British delegates to the Palestine Conference lasting half an hour, was held yesterday.

For the time being it was decided to revert to the normal bilateral system of talks until the Arab and Jewish delegates have reported to their full delegations on the past two days triangular proceedings.

Satisfaction is expressed in Conference circles that the Conference is still in being and that the bilateral talks will continue on Monday.

London, To-day.

THE DAILY SHORT STORY

Best Friends

The moment Glen and Vina saw Chuck's face they feared the worst for the first time he realized how much had happened. He grinned at them, they lacked in understanding of what he craved to do, what he had to do in order to be happy. They were his good friends. They wanted to help, but they didn't understand, could never understand.

"We've folded," he said.

Glen and Vina exchanged glances. They had expected this. Chuck wasn't cut out for a businessman, even though it happened to be something he enjoyed doing. When he started the Round the Town News they were skeptical. During the past five years Chuck had engaged in not less than a dozen business enterprises, all of which had gone by the board. Glen and Vina were getting used to his failures.

Chuck wanted to be a writer, but first he had to make a living, and had tried valiantly to do so, depending largely upon the advice and encouragement of his best friends, Glen and Vina. Pryor Glen was an insurance salesman, and a fairly good one, but he tried hard to see the thing from Chuck's point of view.

"There's no money in writing," he had advised more than once. "Forget it and get yourself a man's job."

"There's a living in writing," Chuck had argued. "And it's what I want to do."

"Then the first move," Vina put in, "is to establish an independent income for yourself by getting a job."

Chuck looked at them. Perhaps for the first time he realized how much they lacked in understanding of what he craved to do, what he had to do in order to be happy. They were his good friends. They wanted to help, but they didn't understand, could never understand.

He thought of Paula. Paula of the blue eyes and chestnut brown hair. He had known her for five years. He loved her, and because he loved her had pretended happiness, pretended that he was satisfied with his lot. As soon as he became established in one of his undertakings they would be married. He had never let her guess at the conflict that constantly raged in his heart—a conflict between his love for her and his love for writing. He had never been able to humble himself enough to explain the things that went on in his heart.

Suddenly he sat erect. "Perhaps you're right," he said. "Perhaps if Paula and I were married I—I'd get along better."

"Sure you would," Glen applauded. "You'd have to."

"There's nothing," Vina repeated, "like the influence of a good woman." Walking along in the cold January night, Chuck thought of what his best friends had said. They were right. If he had Paula to come home to, to sympathize with him and love him, it would lighten the load so

By Barbara Ann Benedict

"Doing that is only going to prolong the time when I'll devote all my time to writing," Chuck said.

"Rubbish!" declared Glen. "Writing doesn't require any energy. Now, look, I can start you off as an insurance salesman—"

But Chuck, though he realized there was no alternative to the suggestion of his best friends, had shuddered at the thought of trying to sell insurance. Instead he tried selling advertising, then became a brush salesman, then worked as a clerk for awhile. One by one, despite the approval and encouragement of the Pryors, each job failed. They failed because every moment he could spare Chuck devoted to writing, and a man can't be master of two trades. So then came this last of his enterprises—the Round the Town News, a periodical which was financed by a friend's money and which flourished for two issues, then died.

It seemed to Chuck that nothing could happen to make him more miserable.

"What you need," Vina said, "is the influence of a good woman."

Glen nodded. "That's right. If you were married it would help a lot." Chuck snorted in disgust. "Now wouldn't I look fine asking Paula to marry me! Good night! I can't even support myself!"

"That's not the point," Vina said. "If you were married you'd be invested with a certain responsibility. It would act, perhaps, as the necessary prod."

"Make you get out and hustle," Glen agreed. "It did me." He tried, but failed to keep a touch of smugness from his voice.

very much, make everything seem so long the time when I'll devote all much brighter.

But he must be fair. He couldn't ask her to go into it blindly. He'd have to tell her everything, try to explain, try to make her understand that no matter what, some day he would become a great writer.

His step was brisk as he turned up Beach street and swung in at Paula's gate. Paula answered his ring. She was alone.

It was a week before Glen and Vina saw Chuck again. One night he appeared at their apartment. With him was Paula. Paula's eyes were bright and excited and there was eagerness in Chuck's expression.

"We're married," Chuck said. Glen and Vina looked at each other. Smugness passed between them.

"Marvelous!" Vina cried. "Oh, now it will be so much easier, Chuck. Now you have something definite to work for."

"How about that insurance job, eh, Chuck? Glad to take it now I'll wager. When a man's married he hasn't time to think of anything much except providing."

But Chuck smiled and shook his head. "Thanks, Glen, I'm not taking the insurance job. You see, Paula's working and we can get along on her salary until I get established in my writing." He paused, amused at the expressions on his best friends' faces.

"You see, I never talked it over with Paula before, and she understood."

He stopped. There wasn't any use. His best friends could never understand. (Copyright, 1939, By The Associated Newspapers)

SHANGHAI'S STRANGEST FUNERAL

SHANGHAI, TO-DAY. ONE OF THE STRANGEST FUNERALS EVER HELD IN SHANGHAI, TOOK PLACE YESTERDAY WHEN CHEN LU, FOREIGN MINISTER IN THE "NANKING REFORMED GOVERNMENT," WHO WAS MURDERED HERE BY GUNMEN LAST SUNDAY, WAS LAID TO HIS LAST RESTING PLACE.

Every possible precaution was taken by the police of the French Concession, International Settlement and the Japanese controlled Shanghai "city government," and British and Japanese troops, to prevent possible disturbances in connection with the funeral.

The remains were rushed through the foreign areas in a motor hearse at a speed of 20 miles an hour, the hearse being followed by cars bearing relatives and friends.

SURREYS AT GRAVESIDE

The procession was escorted from the funeral parlours in the French Concession as far as the Settlement boundary by French police, and thereafter by Settlement police out to "Happy Gardens" repository situated in the Western outside roads area of the Settlement.

Here it was met by a strong posse of "city government" police, Settlement police, Japanese troops and about 20 members of the East Surrey Regiment, who formed a grim gathering at the graveside.—Reuter.

SEÑOR AZANA TO RESIGN IN DAY OR TWO

Paris, To-day.

It is stated in well-informed Spanish Republican circles that Señor Azana, the Spanish President, will resign and leave France on the day France and Britain formally recognise the Nationalists as the Government of Spain.

It is also understood that the Mexican Government has informed General Miaja, commander-in-chief of the Spanish Republican forces, that if he is obliged to leave Spanish territory he will be welcomed in Mexico as a "guest of honour."—Reuter.

C.I.N.C. TO VISIT MACAO

Vice-Admiral Sir Percy Noble, Commander-in-Chief, China Station, is to pay an official call on H.E. the Governor of Macao on Tuesday.

He will leave Hong Kong on Tuesday morning, returning on Wednesday morning.

NO NEW TAXES: EASING STRAIN ON FINANCE

Des Moines (Iowa), To-day.

A Federal programme for business based on a "desire to create an environment in which private capital will be encouraged to invest," was advanced by Mr. Harry L. Hopkins in a speech at the Des Moines Economic Club yesterday. It was Mr. Hopkins' first statement on policy since he became Secretary of Commerce.

Mr. Hopkins recommended a six-point programme to achieve that end.

Firstly, no general rise in Federal taxes this year and an amendment in levies tending to freeze the flow of capital.

Secondly, breaking the "log jam of private investment in the field of utilities, railroads and housing."

Thirdly, tolerance and fairness from labour in dealing with employers.

INCREASED INCOME

Fourthly, increased national income to provide jobs for unemployed and balance the Budget.

Fifthly, assistance for small business, and Sixthly, a larger share of the national income for the farmer.—Reuter.

U.S. TO STOCK UP RAW MATERIALS

Washington, To-day.

The military committee of the Senate yesterday unanimously approved the Bill authorising expenditure of $100,000,000 during the next four years for the acquisition of strategic raw materials.

Many such raw materials must at present be imported.—Reuter.

OFFICIAL APPOINTMENTS

The following official appointments etc. are announced:—Lt. R. W. Ashby has relinquished his appointment as Honorary A.D.C. to H.E. the Governor.

Acting Sub-Lieut. T. M. Parsons is to be Honorary Aide-de-Camp to H.E. the Governor.

Mr. J. A. Fraser has been nominated as a Member of the Court of the University of H.K.

JAPS. SET UP CONSUL IN HAINAN

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Kwangchowwan, To-day.

Mr. Tadashi Akya, appointed Consul-General for Japan at Hoihow, arrived at Hoihow yesterday and opened the former Japanese Consulate. The office will function from to-day.—Our Own Correspondent.

JAPANESE IN HAINAN OCCUPY TSINGLAN

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Kwangchowwan, To-day.

Following occupation of Wen-chang on Hainan Island yesterday morning, the Japanese column struck out to Tsing-Lan, about six miles to the south-east.

Japanese warships entered the harbour at Tsinglan, and shelled indiscriminately.

The Chinese authorities carried out orderly evacuation of all forces, which joined the troops which had withdrawn from Wen-chang. Most of the civilians had already fled inland.

Japanese aircraft were active bombing the area between Wen-chang and Tsing-Lan, which was completely occupied last night.—Our Own Correspondent.

NOW LIQUIDATED

Moreover, it is felt that the Spanish situation is now liquidated and resistance will not continue.

It is not exactly known in London where the Spanish Premier, Dr. Negrin, is, but he is believed to be near Valencia, and will leave the country sooner or later.

Reports received here suggest that Dr. Negrin is the only member of the Spanish Government set on continuing resistance. (It had been earlier reported that the Spanish Foreign Minister, Señor del Vayo, was still in Paris).

NO CONDITIONS

It is gathered in London that it has not been possible to attach conditions to recognition of General Franco, but exchanges of views through Senator Leon Berard (the French negotiator) and Sir Robert Hodgson (British Agent in Burgos) have cleared the ground in a useful manner.

General Franco referred Sir

Robert Hodgson to Mussolini's own "promises" about withdrawal of Italian troops.

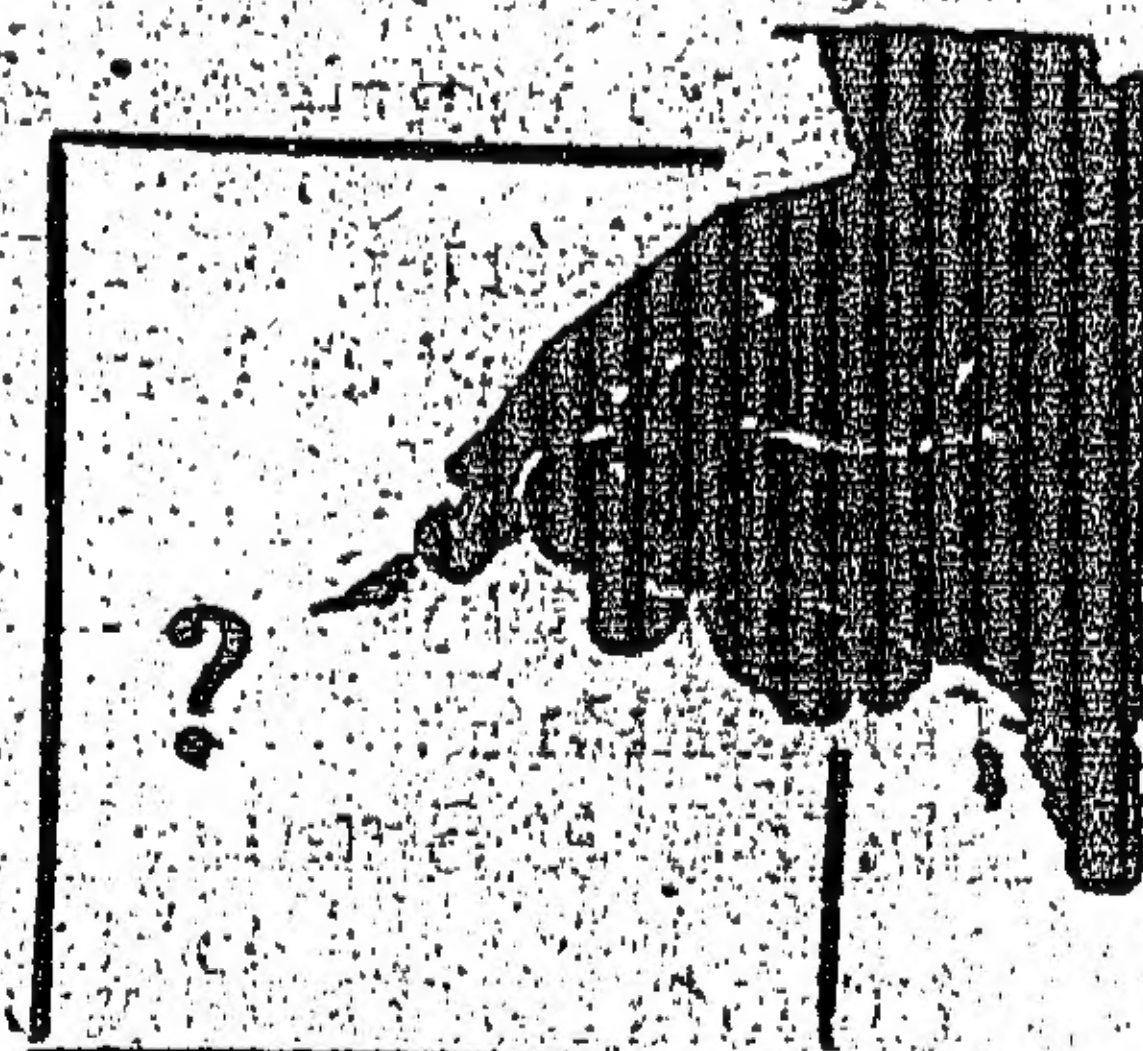

Authoritative quarters in London recall with satisfaction General Franco's desire to occupy Minorca with entirely Spanish troops, while as regards reprisals, General Franco has more than once assured Sir Robert Hodgson that nobody but criminals need fear Nationalist rule.

PROBLEM AT HOME

General Franco is believed to be as desirous as the French to maintain good Franco-Spanish relations.

Moreover, he is inevitably facing a long period of rehabilitation and pacification at home immediately after the Civil War.

Britain and France will be in a stronger position to help him than other countries whose financial resources are not so complete.—Reuter.

MIRROR OF OPINION

The striking similarity of the notes sent by Washington and London to Tokyo stressing the determination of the United States and Great Britain to stand by their treaty rights in China implies a closer community of American and British interest in Far Eastern developments.

Some may regret that earlier attempts at "parallel" action came to nothing and may regard the new indications of its possibility as coming too late. Yet it may be that the very delay in collaboration will make these two notes all the more important in Japanese eyes. The Japanese have now been in China much too long for Japan's own good. The war has become one of attrition. Just when Japan needs some sign that Chinese resistance is about to melt away, and that other countries are resigned to seeing this happen, the two most powerful economic factors in the world renew their interest in an independent China and exhibit it as a joint front against Japanese treaty violation.

Japan, more than ever sensitive to economic pressure, already has seen an American loan go to China for the very purpose of increasing China's economic ability to resist invasion. And back of the notes now received from the American and British Governments lies the probability of new measures—which very likely would be joint measures—to bolster Chinese morale and actual fighting power through steady economic aid.

Japan, moreover, understands that these notes are based not so much on abstractions about justice or on idealistic support of collective security as on the national interests of two Powers able to defend those interests. Whatever people in other countries may think of this fact, it is one which doubtless will impress Japanese authority.—"Christian Science Monitor."

War-monger is a very popular word just now. It is flung about in private talk like darts in the pub. Do you say that there are still gaps in our defences? You are a war-monger. Do you deny that there are gaps? War-monger! The war-mongers shout at one another across the table—or the bar.

It's the same word, if you listen across Europe and the world. Do you wonder why certain nations are arming at so frantic a pace that their people groan under the burden? The leaders of these nations appear to you to exalt war, and therefore to be war-mongers, do they? War-monger yourself for calling them so. Have certain of our politicians offended Hitler? Clearly; he calls them war-mongers.

Who's the latest war-monger? Mr. Roosevelt warns America. He appears to think that America cannot calmly and coldly contemplate the possibility of the defeat of the democracies.

When Lord Baldwin talked of our frontiers being on the Rhine the Nazis called him a war-monger.

When Mr. Roosevelt is reported to have said that America's defence frontier is in France what on earth can the Nazi Press call him? A war-monger. Blessed word. Never stale.

We must say this for it—the anxiety of everybody to call everybody else, privately or publicly, a war-monger does really show that we are all ashamed of war; even if some people prepare to make it against those war-mongers who offer peace and conciliation.

The text of a letter addressed to Gen. Chiang Kai-shek by certain heads of colleges and professors of the University of Oxford has been issued by the Chinese embassy. It expresses "the profound admiration we have for you, Sir, the head and front of the gallant resistance which the Chinese people are making to the invaders of your country and the enemies of your freedom," and continues:

"That you and your fellow-countrymen should have been able to steel yourselves to such incredible feats of courage and endurance is now one of those acts in history which men can never forget. In the past the British people have had their ignorant doubts as to the reality and significance of Chinese civilisation and culture. To-day, instructed as we are on the one hand by the savage hates of narrow nationalistic cults, on the other hand by the dignity and self-control of Chinese feeling against Japan, we have no doubt as to whose hands bear the torch of civilisation."

"We look to the day when the democracies of the world shall stand unflinchingly on your side and the valor of your people shall wring even from your enemies that need of recognition which their own traditions summon them to accord—"The Times."

Mr. Lloyd George in his speech at Llandudno attacked the Government's foreign policy in language which was pungent and derisive, but he based his arguments upon solid enough grounds. He brought to his help a series of maps thrown upon a screen by a lantern to illustrate how the strategic position of Britain and France had been weakened by repeated concessions to the dictators. As to the lowering of prestige from the same cause, Mr. Lloyd George said: "This childlike faith in the trodden pledges of these rapacious aggressors, these shiverings and retirements and propitiatory genuflections before their scowls and threats, these rejoicings when they condescend to smile upon our credulity and our weakness" (such is Mr. Lloyd George's description of the policy of appeasement) "are damaging to our influence in the world." The world had seen one nation after another who had trusted in us destroyed—China, Abyssinia, Czechoslovakia, and Spain. A few years ago we had 58 nations prepared to follow our lead in defence of liberty and right. He challenged anybody to name three nations who would follow us to-day.—"Manchester Guardian."

AN APPEAL FOR CHINA

Sir,—We wish to inform your readers that there is an opportunity for all those who wish to serve China to assist the China Committee of the Emergency Refugee Council and the China Defence League to send up food, drugs and surgical supplies to Southern Kwangsi, Kweiyang and the Northwest.

The Chinese Promotion Committee of Ontario have sent the China Defence League five Studebaker chassis. The League is building them into trucks, each of which will carry two and a half tons. The first two will be ready on February 28th, the remaining three on March 14th.

We have all been deeply moved by the bombing at Shum Chun this week, the killing and wounding of men, women and children in British and Chinese territory. But let us think for one moment what is happening in China. Dr. C. U. Lee of the National Medical College, Kweiyang wrote to us on February 10th. "We are just recovering from the havoc resulting from the raid on the 4th. The figure for the killed alone is 527 up to date and they are still digging up corpses from collapsed houses. The wounded is more than twice this number. At least 3,500 people are rendered homeless. The entire business centre has been wiped out with loss of property amounting to 25,000,000 dollars."

This is happening in every part of China—and there are more than 500,000 wounded soldiers to be cared for. We have letters from the Front asking for tins of condensed milk because the severely-wounded and the sick die through lack of proper food—starved to death. We want vitamin products particularly for the Northwest where there is an almost total lack of meat, eggs, fish and fresh vegetables. We need cod liver oil for every part of China for the children and the sick. The most important surgical and medical supplies are listed below.

We do not believe that any European or Chinese, or goodwill in Hong Kong would wish to see these trucks travel empty or even partially empty. Money and supplies can be earmarked for Nanning, Kweiyang (the headquarters of the Red Cross Medical Relief Commission under Dr. Robert Lim), Dr. Richard Brown's Hospital in the Northwest, the Yen-an Base Hospital run by the 29th. Unit of Dr. Lim's, a Woman's Unit, or the International Peace Hospital, Wutaishan, under the direction of Dr. Norman Bethune.

Supplies and money can be sent to the Bishop's House, Pedder Hill or to the China Defence League (Tel: 28930 or 25820).

Yours sincerely,

Soong Ching Ling (Madam Sun Yat Sen).

Ronald Hong Kong.

Then, you must state what you believe will be the order of the first six stars based upon the number of votes casted as a result of this poll. The first entry opened with the correct solution or nearest thereto will be declared the winner.

Each entry must be accompanied by the counter-foil of the ticket to see "MARIE ANTOINETTE" and must be sent to the KING'S THEATRE ear-marked "Colonial Dames" Competition. All entries must be in by noon on the day following the completion of the run of "MARIE ANTOINETTE."

The King's Management will be the judges, whose decision will be final.

Bringing Up Father

(Left) — A typical study of an Italian soldier of the Alps, showing how he is fully equipped for any emergency. These soldiers are quite at home on their skis, and their equipment includes heavy climbing boots, special snow shoes and skis. They also carry portable radio apparatus.

GAME OF BLUFF L.R.C. Elect New Officials

"They May Stand Up To Us"

Mr. Walter Elliot, Minister of Health, speaking at Thorpe, Norfolk, said: "We cannot say we can change the opinion of Europe by standing up firmly to the dictators because we know it may mean that the dictators may stand up firmly to us."

"We cannot make promises such as our Socialist opponents are able to make, because we know we have to fulfil them," said Mr. Elliot. "When you begin howling insults across the ocean by wireless or through the Press, you are howling them to people who do not understand the intricacies of the British party system."

"We do not like it when other people shout insults at us and we need not be surprised when other people do not like it when we shout insults at them."

"RECKLESS GAME OF BLUFF"

"This country is too great to risk the reckless game of bluff which our Socialist friends want us to carry on with the other Great Powers of Europe."

"We have got to rearm and make Britain strong so that her voice is listened to. We have got a line of country which we are following and which we shall continue to follow, of seeking peace and avoiding war, only taking on that desperate hazard if, as the Prime Minister said in his broadcast during the crisis, we were convinced that one Power had resolved to dominate Europe by force."

"There is a risk of flames which are in part of Europe spreading across the whole place. Let us do our utmost to see that we bring water to that fire and not petrol." Referring to social measures, Mr. Elliot said that Socialist critics contended that these were put forward in the pre-Munich era before Mr. Anthony Eden left the Government. "They date all good things back now to the time when Anthony Eden was in the Government."

Mr. Elliot was speaking for Mr. Medlicott, Liberal Nationalist candidate in the East Norfolk by-election.

FINAL SHEFFIELD SHIELD MATCH

Adelaide, To-day.

The final Sheffield Shield match between South Australia and Victoria opened here yesterday.

Victoria at close of play had scored 284 for the loss of six wickets. Rigg scored 78, Hassett 54 not out and Barnett 51.—Reuter.

The annual general meeting of the Ladies' Recreation Club was held at the Club House yesterday, when an election of new officers was held.

The new officers for the Club are:

Mrs. J. L. Adams, President; Mrs. T. A. Martin, Vice-President; Mrs. G. White, Secretary; Mrs. R. Beavan, Treasurer; and Mrs. D. L. Prophet, Mrs. D. D. MacGregor, Mrs. J. E. Richardson, Committee.

Messrs. Palmer and Turner were re-elected honorary architects and T. A. Martin and Co. honorary auditors.

TENNIS FINALS

The finals of the ladies' doubles and men's singles played yesterday resulted as follows:

Mrs. Oliver and Mrs. Church beat Mrs. Lissaman and Mrs. Shewan 6-0, 6-1, 6-3.

J. J. Ferguson beat H. J. Armstrong 6-3, 6-1, 6-4.

Danahar Issues Another Challenge

London, To-day.

The National Sporting Club, who were Arthur Danahar's sponsors in the recent British Lightweight Championship but which Eric Boon, the holder, retained by a t.t.o. decision in the 14th round, announce that he will not fight again as a lightweight.

They have again issued a challenge to Boon, requesting a return fight at welterweight limits of 10 stone for £1,000 a side, the contest to be held in three months time.—Reuter.

TWO COLONY BADMINTON CHAMPIONSHIP RESULTS

Two matches in the Colony Badminton Championships were held last night. In the Men's Doubles Championship the University pair K. L. Yong and L. Sung easily disposed of R. P. Bywater and North by 15-2, 15-5, while D. Kwok beat M. M. de V. Soares in the Men's Junior Singles by 15-2, 15-2.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

Subject: "Christ Jesus"

The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science Churches, to-morrow 26th February will be "Christ Jesus".

The Golden Text will be:—"Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him." (Colossians 3:16, 17).

Among others the following citations will be read from the Bible:—"And John calling unto him two of his disciples sent them to Jesus, saying, Art thou he that should come on look we for another? And in that same hour he cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of evil spirits; and unto many that were blind he gave sight. Then Jesus answering said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel is preached. And blessed is he, who-soever shall not be offended in me." (Luke 7:19, 21-23).

The following citations will also be read from the Christian Science Text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:—"The mission of Jesus confirmed prophecy, and explained the so-called miracles of olden time as natural demonstrations of the divine power, demonstrations which were not understood. Jesus' works established his claims to the Messiahship. Jesus established his church and maintained his mission on a spiritual foundation of Christ—healing. He taught his followers that his religion and a divine Principle, which would cast out error and heal both the sick and the sinning." (Pages 181 and 186).

Manila Soccer Team Leaving

SECOND DIV. CHAMPIONSHIP PROSPECTS

5th. A.A. Should Beat Saints To-day

At the rate at which the Second Division football League programme is progressing, it is anticipated that this will be completed on schedule, which is by the end of March.

5th A.A. Regiment, Royal Artillery, are now favourably placed for the championship and should easily dispose of St. Joseph's this afternoon at Caroline Hill as the latter will be without several of the regular players, among whom are Ward and Campos, who will be playing for the senior team.

A game which will have a very important bearing on the championship, will be that between Middlesex and Royal Scots, who are level pegging near the top of the table.

SHIELD POINTER

It is difficult to forecast the result, but the game should serve as a pointer for the junior shield final, when these two teams meet.

Both teams play good football and one has only to recall the grand game by Middlesex against Engineers in the Semi-final Round of the Shield and the other encounter between Royal Scots and P.W.D., who were nearly up to First Division standard.

To other clubs, the remaining games are just a matter of fulfilling their obligations.

Series Of Interports Must Be Maintained: Of Great Value To Us

(By "REFEREE")

The Manila Interport football delegation, under the management of Mr. V. Calvo, departs for Manila this evening by the S.S. Biancamano, carrying with them the best wishes of the Hong Kong Football Association and the large soccer public, who had the pleasure of seeing them in action against our three teams.

If the Colony had had any misgivings or doubts of the success of a visit of the Philippines' leading players, these have now been dispelled for the venture proved a success in more ways than one.

Manila lost all three games in the Colony, but took their defeats in a gentlemanly manner, making no alibis although it is generally admitted that luck was not always with them, particularly in their final game against Rest of the Colony.

There is one point, however, which has had an important bearing on the result of the matches, and that was the duration of the three games. In Manila, where they play under arc-lights in the evening, football is limited at the very most to 70 minutes duration and the extra 20 minutes here did have a telling effect on them. Of this there was little doubt, as witnessed their amazing collapse against Rest in the last 15 minutes, when they were unable to maintain the terrific pace set early on in the game.

NO EXCUSES, BUT!

On top of this climatic conditions were against them. I am making no excuses on their behalf, but merely submitting that if conditions were very similar to those prevailing at Manila, I am certain they would have won at least two of the matches.

Hong Kong Football Association are to be congratulated on their foresight and initiative and, it is sincerely hoped that it will be possible to maintain these series of Interports with our Philippine neighbours in future years.

These do more than merely record one port's superiority over another at sport, they cement friendships made on "these visits of good will" and help materially towards a better understanding of the problems of nations and communities living within close proximity of one another, and in these difficult and troubled times, this is what is essentially called for.

So here's to a toast, "that Hong Kong and Manila meet again once every season."

"Au revoir," Manila. We hope that you have enjoyed your stay in the Colony as much as we have enjoyed your displays and your very fine example of sportsmanship both on and off the field.

Five Ladies' Hockey Ties For To-day

Several Teams Make Changes

(By "STICKS")

Two Caer Clark and three Brawn Cup ladies' hockey matches will be held this afternoon and some interesting play should be witnessed.

Hong Kong Ladies are feeling the pinch in players and at the moment are short of a full-back for their match against St. Andrew's Ladies, at King's Park. The Saints are making one change, Miss T. Jex replacing Miss I. Gittins on the left-wing.

C. B. A. Ladies, who visit Central British School, are also making one change in their team, a positional one. Miss M. Parsons, who usually plays in their half-back line, will be seen at inside-left, while Mrs. Stoker will be seen as a half-back.

GROUND DIFFICULTY

Central British Schoolgirls will probably retain their usual lineup and will give their visitors a good run for their money.

In the Brawn Cup League, Hong Kong Ladies are experiencing some difficulty at the moment regarding a ground. They believe that their Valley ground is not available owing to the annual race meeting, but are determined, if possible, to play their match there.

"Y" Ladies, who secured a smashing triumph over C.B.A. Ladies last week by 10 clear goals, will be

IMPORTANT CRICKET MATCH

Club v. K.C.C.

(By "ADREM")

To-day's match between Hong Kong Cricket Club and Kowloon Cricket Club to be played at Chater Road, should go a long way towards deciding the destination of the Senior Shield.

The Club team as advertised is the strongest they have turned out this season. G. P. Longfield is available as is Stokes, the two Pearces and Tom Hayward.

On the other hand, K.C.C. will be weakened by the absence of N. D. Lloyd from their attack, and G. C. Burnett from the batting department. Both these players have contributed in no small measure to the success of K.C.C. in their four matches to date and it is particularly unfortunate that they should be out of the team for the first big test.

PROGRAMME
First Division
C. S. C. C.	v I. R. C.
C. C. C.	v Recreio
H. K. C. C.	v K. C. C.
Navy	v Army
Second Division
Army	v C. S. C. C.
Recreio	v Navy
University	v C. C. C.
K. C. C.	v H. K. C. C.
I. R. C.	v P. R. C.

LAY IS GOOD

However, Bertram Lay, who is being promoted to fill the vacancy left by Lloyd, has been bowling very steadily for the Second Team and in addition, is one of the two Junior League, batsmen to have scored a century this season, while G. A. White, who completes the team, should stiffen the fielding.

C.S.C.C., on their own ground, should at least extend I.R.C., while Recreio, despite their fine record, will have to go all out to beat Craigengower on the latter's territory.

At King's Park, Navy entertain Army and while no League shield hangs in the balance of this match, keenness will rest in the struggle which should have a great bearing on the destination of the wooden spoon!

SECOND DIVISION

In the Second Division, Recreio should be severely tested by Navy but in view of their fine fielding and keen attack, should manage to carry the day.

K.C.C., another team in line for honours, will also have a hard nut to crack in H.K.C.C. They will be handicapped by the absence of B. D. Lay, who has been their most successful bat.

Another interesting game is the I.R.C.-Police match at Sookunpoo. I have given up trying to forecast where the Police are concerned and I would not be the least bit surprised at a decision either way.

Some of the teams:—

Sarazen And Cotton Have A Mild Tiff

BRITISH OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP PROSPECTS

(By AIR MAIL)

NOBODY who follows golf affairs would be surprised at the source of that little tiff which Sarazen and Cotton had the other day. It was a case of words across the sea, and Sarazen, I need hardly add, began it. The little American has never been shy of print, and he appears to have cultivated the habit of saying something in the winter that makes people talk.

Sarazen either has a live Press agent, or he has an inborn instinct himself for the right stuff of publicity. Admittedly it needs courage for some of the views he expresses. One of these you may remember, was that wives of professionals should not be allowed to travel on official tours. This time he used the Cotton guarantee for an American tour for a rap at British sportsmanship.

SUGGESTED VENUES FOR CHALLENGE GOLF MATCH

(By AIR MAIL)

London.

London golfers may have the opportunity of watching the whole of the £500 challenge match over 72 holes between Reginald Whitcombe, Open Champion, and A. D. Locke, South African titleholder.

Whitcombe suggested that the match be played on May 30 and 31 at Wentworth (Virginia Water) and Coombe Hill (Kington).

"The dates are in the week following the Amateur Championship at Hoylake," said Whitcombe, "and I am certain that Wentworth and Coombe Hill, if the committees of the respective clubs allow the match, will prove ideal venues."

EASILY ACCESSIBLE

"Both courses are easily accessible from London, and if arrangements on those lines are completed. I believe we shall have a huge attendance."

Locke, who leaves for England on April 21, has agreed to take 40 per cent. of the gate receipts, leaving 60 per cent. to Whitcombe.

UNINJURED

But British sportsmanship comes out uninjured. An effort by Cotton to assess his own value for a tour in the States, which, by the way, does not now look like materialising, has been criticised by Sarazen as undue devotion to the dollar, but looks to me like a perfectly straightforward business proposition.

Hagen, Armour, Sarazen, and others who have competed in our Open Championship, thought it well worth while to take that chance, for guarantees are, of course, neither asked nor given for the Open Championship, and those who took the Cup back to the States made fortunes. Nobody will take Sarazen seriously with the latest stunt that puts him in the news when for the first time in years he is not in the "first ten" ranking list. In any case, Sarazen's bark is always worse than his bite.

THE LOCKE PHENOMENON

Sarazen, however, can be flatly contradicted on one point. Cotton, so far as I know, has never claimed to be the world's best golfer; that honour was a matter of fact given him by the Americans themselves. He was No. 1 in last year's world ranking compiled over there. The recent argument, however, brought out two interesting news items—viz., that Sarazen is coming to St Andrews to take back "that Cup," and Cotton is ready to take a place in the Ryder Cup team that will go to the States. Cotton will, of course, also take part in our Open Championship, which will be exciting and spectacular with strong overseas challenges, including that of Bobby Locke. Sarazen at 37 cannot be written off the prospects, but the odds are definitely on the younger contenders, among whom the South African will be most conspicuous.

Locke, who recently won the Transvaal Open and beat Syd Brews by "the length of a street"—his aggregate was actually 285—has measured up to the new standard since he turned professional last year. Some of his rounds in the sixties have been phenomenal, and leave no doubt that at 21 he is one of the most extraordinary scoring forces the game has ever known. Even a surface analysis of his recent Transvaal Open figures, the details of which are not available, indicates clearly the accuracy of his strokes to the green and his short game. If, for example, you subtract 18 tee strokes from a round of 64, you leave 46 for the rest of the play, so that the knack of running three strokes into two is obvious. Locke picks up strokes on the approaches and putts.

Nine Positional Changes

Scotland's Rugby Team To Meet Ireland To-day: Three New "Caps"

CRAWFORD, BRYDON AND CRAIG DROPPED

(BY AIR MAIL)

THE Scottish international Rugby XV to meet Ireland at Dublin to-day shows, as was expected after the defeat by Wales at Cardiff, sweeping changes. Altogether, there are nine positional changes, although the team includes but three men new to international honours.

The team reads:—

G. Roberts, Watsonians; †J. R. S. Innes, Aberdeen University, D. J. Macrae, St. Andrews University, †R. W. Shaw, Glasgow High School (F.P.), and †K. C. Fyfe, London Scottish; †R. B. Bruce-Lockhart, Cambridge University, and †T. F. Dorward, Gala; †I. C. Henderson, Edinburgh Academicals, †I. N. Graham, Edinburgh Academicals, W. Purdie, Jedforest, G. B. Horsburgh, London Scottish, A. Roy, Waterloo, †G. D. Shaw, Sale, †D. K. A. Mackenzie, Edinburgh Wanderers, and W. B. Young, King's College Hospital. † Change from Cardiff match. * New "cap."

The most notable absentee is W. H. Crawford, a veritable matchwinner last season, since he obtained all the points in the great victory over Wales at Murrayfield, to start Scotland on an unexpected and successful bid for the international "triple crown." Even last season, however, there were those who thought that Scotland, with losing forwards, and as the country to take most exception to specialisation, would do well to discard the Navy man for a solid scrummager.

Crawford's display against Wales this year settled the question. An opportunist and a third half-back, playing a brilliant game of his own, he has yet been sacrificed for the sake of solidity and orthodoxy in the team, and few will cavil at the selectors' decision.

Crawford's like may be seldom seen again, since he kept within the letter of the Rugby laws, and was penalised on fewer occasions than most wing forwards, but it may be felt that, in dispensing with his services, his country is doing something for the game, instead of setting out to combat the ruthless measures of others.

On the whole, the pack appears to be improved, although it is difficult to see why either G. H. Gallie (Edinburgh Academicals) or R. W. Sampson (London Scottish) should have to retire from a front row trio who were straining without any great support from the rear.

It is to be hoped that Innes who has been transferred to the wing, gets a better service from D. J. Macrae than did Craig. Macrae is one of the few who retain position, and he will be partnered in the centre by R. W. Shaw. With Shaw—a good bit from his best and by no means the dominant figure of last season, it has been found expedient to bring him to centre, and introduce R. B. Bruce-Lockhart, flyhalf. Bruce-Lockhart got his only previous cap against Ireland two years ago at the same venue, when he was brought in for A. Ross. He did not do very well then against robust tackling, but he is a fine attacking player, and any failings in defence may be offset by the feeling of reliability about the centres.

T. F. DORWARD'S PROSPECTS
T. F. Dorward, of course, comes back to scrum half, not that he is likely to be more skilful than others, but because he is harder and can take the abuse so frequently meted out to scrum half-backs in international matches with more aplomb than most. This time he may get what few Scottish scrum workers have had in recent years—a fair share of the ball.

The team as a whole may not meet with general approval, but it will undoubtedly help in the building of a side to beat England at Murrayfield to retain the Calcutta Cup, which appears to be the most that Scotland can hope for at the moment.

Ireland's team to meet Scotland to-day is the same as the one which beat England by 5-0;—

Murphy (Lansdowne); Moran (Clontarf), McKibben (Instonians), Torrens (Bohemians), Lytle (Bedford); Cromey (Collegians), Morgan (Old Belvedere); Alexander (Royal Ulster Constabulary), Irwin (North of Ireland), Mayne, Malone O'Loughlin (Marryowen), Ryan (University College, Dublin), Sayers (Almshouse Service), Teehan (University College, Cork), and Tierney (University College, Cork).—Reuter.

HONG KONG BANK MEET CLUB AT RUGBY TO-DAY SEASON NEARING THE END

Two Rugby games will take place this afternoon on the Navy ground at Causeway Bay, where Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank meet Rest of the Club in their annual encounter, commencing at 4.15 p.m., while at 3 p.m. a team from H.M.S. Eagle will meet an Army side.

It will be seen that H. D. Bidwell, the Club first fifteen skipper, will be hooking, while W. E. Peers will be seen in Club's three-quarter line in support of D. H. Stewart.

Hong Kong Bank: S. J. Fox, M. McD. Holmden, D. G. Day, M. G. Carruthers, F. M. Thompson, A. H. R. Butcher, E. L. Taverner, E. A. Bompas, J. S. Dunnett, D. Moore, M. F. L. Haymes, R. G. Gray, E. A. Matthews, A. L. Harman and K. A. Watson (Captain).

Club: M. W. MacGrath, W. E. Peers, D. H. Stewart, C. J. Powell, D. I. Bosanquet, J. Hutchison, J. R. Henderson, E. W. Stout, H. D. Bidwell (Captain), A. F. Walkden, G. M. Macrae, W. A. Johnson, A. G. Dalziel, K. H. G. White and J. Redman.

Remaining fixtures for the Club this season are as follows:—
Wednesday, March 1st—Club "A" XV v. R.A.O.C. (Club ground, 5 p.m.).
Saturday, March 4th—Club "A" XV v. H.M.S. Birmingham (Club ground, 3 p.m.).

H.K.V.D.C. v. The Army (Club ground, 4.15 p.m.).

Monday, March 6th—Preliminary Rounds Sevens Tournament (Club ground, 4 p.m.).

Wednesday, March 8th—Preliminary Rounds Sevens Tournament (Club ground, 4 p.m.).

Saturday, March 11th—Finals—Sevens Tournament (Club ground, 3 p.m.).

FIRST DIV. SOCCER HONOURS

Navy And S. China "A" Neck-And-Neck

With the excitement of the Interport with Manila now over, local football returns to normal with the usual programme of First and Second Division games.

Ordinarily there are no games of outstanding interest and both South China "A" and Navy, who are neck-and-neck in the race for First Division honours, should secure easy victories over Club and St. Joseph's.

Club have for many seasons won one game against the Chinese, but it is not expected that they will do so this year with their lack of talent.

EASTERN FAVOURED

Eastern should easily account for South China "B", though the latter will be strengthened by the inclusion of Chan Tak-fai, at centre forward, but will be without Tam Kwan-kon, who is visiting his parents in Macau during the week-end.

To-morrow, at Caroline Hill, a charity game between South China and Rest of the Colony has been arranged in aid of the British Fund for the Relief of Distress in China.

Lee Wai-tong, who has purposely remained in Hong Kong for this game, will lead the Chinese attack, while in the Rest team, A. V. Gosano will be seen at centre-forward.

South China:—Choy Wing-choy; Mak Shui-hon and Lee Ting-sang; Leung Wing-chui, Lau Hing-choi and Yeung Kan-po; Tam Kwong-sum, Fung King-cheong, Lee Wai-tong, Lai Shui-wing and Lau Chung-sang.

Rest of Colony:—Hartley (K.F.C.); Hon Yung-sang (Kwong Wah), Sheehan (Middlesex); Honnball (K.F.C.); Beltrao (St. Joseph's), Hsu King-shing (Eastern); Fowler (Club), Courtney (Middlesex), A. V. Gosano (St. Joseph's), Capt. Saw (Middlesex) and Moss (Police).

Reserves:—Emberson (R.A.O.C.) Rides (R.A.O.C.), E. Strange (Club), Ulrich (K.F.C.) and Parker (Police).

Players are requested to report to the manager of the team, Mr. W. E. Hollands, at the dressing room at 3.30 p.m. Uniforms, knickers and stockings will be supplied.

LADIES' INTERPORT HOCKEY TRIALS FOR TO-MORROW

(By "STICKS")

Two Ladies' Interport hockey trial games of half an hour each, will be held to-morrow morning on the Club ground at King's Park, the first commencing at 10.15 a.m. sharp.

The following players from the various Clubs are requested to be on the ground with one coloured and one white jersey, if possible:—

St. Andrew's Ladies: Miss J. Hall and Miss M. Wilson.

Junior Cricket Averages

Mitchell Moves To Head of Batsmen

Only two matches were played in the Cricket League on Saturday, both in the Second Division.

E. J. R. Mitchell, H.K.C.C. skipper, advances to the head of the batsmen by virtue of another not out innings, which now gives him three not outs in four knocks.

B. C. Fay has also advanced somewhat, while C. W. E. Bishop, with an average of 48 last week, remains at that figure—his innings on Saturday was exactly 48.

Among the bowlers, Carey has improved his figures considerably while the only new qualifier is W. Stoker of Club.

OF THE
FOUR-ACE SYSTEM

WHAT PARTNER'S BID SHOWS

Yesterday you were Merwin Maier's partner and held:

♠ K x x
♥ A Q 10 9 x x
♦ x x x
♣ x x

Both sides were vulnerable and the bidding went:
Maier Burnstine You Schenken
INT Pass (?)

ANSWER: Raise to two no-trump. Your partner, Merwin Maier, would not have opened with one no-trump if he had any suit weaker than K x or x x x. In view of this, your hand offers five probable tricks towards a no-trump game.

Score 100% for two no-trump, 60% for two diamonds (this particular takeout may be passed and a game missed if your partner has a minimum).

Question No. 23

You are Oswald Jacoby's partner and hold:

♠ 10 9 x x x
♥ x x x
♦ x x
♣ x x

Neither side is vulnerable, and the bidding has gone:
You Schenken Jacoby Maier
Pass Pass INT Pass

What do you bid? (Answer tomorrow)

"What tough luck," mumbled the disgruntled Declarer. "The hand looked like a cinch, but of course West had to turn up with the King of diamonds in addition to a five-card heart suit."

West had opened a heart and Declarer, seeing a chance for an extra trick if the lead were from Queen-Jack, played low from dummy. This play in itself didn't hurt, but when East played the Jack, Declarer made the fatal mistake of winning the trick with his King. A spade was played to dummy's Jack, East promptly winning with the Ace and returning a heart. Now the losing diamond finesse was taken, whereupon West triumphantly ran off three heart tricks.

North, the dummy, had patiently watched his partner butcher the hand, but he could not stand his plea for sympathy. "If," he said scornfully, "You had just allowed East to hold the first heart trick, the second round would be won by dummy's Ace and you should then take the diamond finesse. This would lose and your remaining heart stopper would then be knocked out, but West would have no more re-entries for his heart suit. In fact, on proper play the only way the hand could be lost would be if West held five hearts, as both the spade Ace and the diamond King for re-entries."

What's On At the Cinemas

AT THE MAJESTIC—"Beau Hanks". Revival of a great comedy when Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy join the Foreign Legion, the war is as good as over, there is still time, however to some of the funniest slapstick ever screened.

AT THE STAR—"Four Men and a Prayer". Impressive drama, starring Loretta Young supported by Richard Greene, George Sanders, David Niven, C. Aubrey Smith and John Carradine.

AT THE KINGS—"Marie Antoinette", with Norma Shearer, Tyrone Power, John Barrymore, Robert Morley, Anita Louise, and Joseph Schildkraut. The picture, that has been widely acclaimed. Nothing has been spared in the production and is in itself a lavish spectacular triumph.

AT THE CATHAY—"Little Miss Broadway". A fun-filled story, steeped in excitement and studded with delightful melodies. Shirley's invasion of the Great White Way. With Shirley Temple, George Murphy, Phyllis Brooks, Jimmy Durante, Edna May Oliver, George Barbier, El Brendel, Jane Darwell and Claude Gillingwater.

AT THE QUEEN'S AND ALHAMBRA—"Say It In French", with Ray Milland, Olyntha Bradna, Irene Harvey, Janet Beecher and Mary Carlisle. A new standard for tangles of domestic situations is reached in this production which is the story of the complications that arise when a young American society lad is entangled with a French bride.

AT THE ORIENTAL—"Racket Busters". A thrill-packed, absorbing drama built around a topic that is getting front page headlines in to-day's American newspapers. The cast includes Humphrey Bogart, George Brent, Gloria Dickson, Allen Jenkins and Walter Abel.

STOP PRESS

TEL. 20022 or 33993

A net profit of $15,296,621, cash assets representing an increase of $42,000,000 over last year, investments showing an increase of $30,000,000 and loans and bills receivable showing a decrease of $59,000,000 on last year, were announced at the annual meeting of shareholders of the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank to-day.

Highlights from the speech of the chairman, Mr. T. E. Pearce, were:

"The political situation is so delicate and the trade and currency situation so abnormal that I trust you will not be disappointed if I leave untouched or pass lightly over matters about which you hoped for stronger word or more detailed observations." The more I say the more easy will it be for misinterpretations to arise."

"There are some to blame our Home Government for not taking a stronger line of action both here as well as in Europe. I do not propose to criticise British policy. I believe that recently there has been more controversy at home than is wise and desirable about questions of foreign policy."

Moreover, the Powers most interested in the Far East have made their stand clear: that the position of their nationals is governed by strict observance of international obligations, the alteration of which by unilateral action will not be considered.

It is, however, impossible to reconcile such (Japanese) assurances with the trend of developments in North and Central China. Our important stake in the economic structure of the Far East makes us very anxious that treaties, agreements and properly authenticated statements should mean what they say and be carried out with good faith.

"Early in January the Chinese Government were driven to the decision that since 80 per cent. of their revenue was out of their hands they could no longer bear the whole burden of finding the equivalent of £400,000 each month to meet (Customs) loan requirements. However, no public default has yet taken place and it may still be avoided."

Referring to the Shanghai situation, Mr. Pearce said: "Unfortunately, barely perceptible progress has been made in the negotiations affecting Shanghai and its relations with the Japanese naval and military forces and I can only underline what your Chairman said last year when he emphasised the importance of the Powers supporting the present Municipal Administration, pending a final settlement of the Shanghai problem in all its aspects."

"Japan is a well disciplined country with a highly organised system of Government and it would be a mistake to underestimate her lasting powers under conditions as they exist at present."

Whether these conditions change or not mainly depends on external political developments."

"The fall of Canton and closure of other southern ports has had an adverse effect on the business community (of Hong Kong) but it has caused no panic and we are prepared to wait and see what this coming year brings forth. Fortunately the currency and finances of the Colony are sound, so we are in a position to face the future with confidence."

Again referring to Sino-Japanese hostilities, Mr. Pearce said: "Things are drifting dangerously and the gap will grow more and more difficult to bridge unless mediation is attempted soon."

A tragic incident occurred in the Sydney Maiden Stakes to-day when Serenade, ridden by Mr. A. W. Raymond, fell and had to be destroyed.

Serenade was lying second to Devonian when it suddenly fell for no apparent reason. The pony limped off the course, and on examination it was found necessary to shoot it.

Mr. Raymond was taken to hospital in an ambulance with a broken collar-bone and suffering from shock.

"Rapier," the "China Mail" racing expert, tipped the winners of all five races before tiffin this morning. Details are in Page Seven.

KOWLOON CITY
HUT FIRE

A fire which destroyed two unnumbered huts in Talia Village, Kowloon City, broke out at about 1.55 a.m. this morning. Four appliances fought the fire for an hour before it was extinguished. As far as is known, there were no casualties.

horse is Rose Elect, and these two will probably also fight out the Champions.

"My pony is slightly heavy but I wanted it to be in case the weather was very warm."

SHIRTS

"TRUBENISED"
COLLARS

A Trubenised Collar provides the Acme of Comfort and Good Appearance for the Business Man. Here are a few of its special features:—

- ① Retains its stiff appearance with Soft Collar comfort.
- ② Will not wrinkle or crease under any conditions.
- ③ Is as porous and absorbent as any soft collar.
- ④ Will retain its smooth immaculate finish after laundering.
- ⑤ Can be washed like any other soft collar.
- ⑥ Requires no starch.
- ⑦ Wears longer—starching shortens the life of collars.
